

Subject: : Fly Tying

Topic: : First creations- How do they look?

Re: First creations- How do they look?

Author: : McSneek

Date: : 2013/4/14 11:49:30

URL:

These are really nice for a new tier. Only thing I would add to what others have already said is some of the tails look like they are tied on the side of the hook rather than on top. Make sure you have your tail material positioned properly on top of the hook shank and make a couple of good pinch wraps before you let go. Make sure the material stays on top of the shank. It can slip if you're not holding it in place while tying down or if you're not tying it down on top of a thread base.