

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : Skunked on my first 2013 outing!

Re: Skunked on my first 2013 outing!

Author: : mike_richardson

Date: : 2013/4/15 13:47:28

URL:

Got skunked as well. I would cast my nymphs upstream and by the time i had picked up my tip to get the leader in line they were already past me. I lasted 45 mins before partaking in other recreational activities. It was my last trip up to trout camp for some years. I will be taking my son out from now on. Even though I did not land a fish, I had a great time living it up with the family and just being in the mountains. maybe the high roaring waters were what i needed to just relax and focus on spending time with the guys, and trout camp that I wont be seeing for quite a while. Looking forward to upcoming opening days with the little guy now!