

Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : Rowing a pontoon vs. Drift boat

Rowing a pontoon vs. Drift boat

Author: : Stimey

Date: : 2013/4/15 14:48:36

URL:

I've been learning to row a drift boat the last 2 seasons (low profile hyde fiberglass) still not great at it but getting much better.... I feel safe doing it in most conditions.... now working on the more technical points of boat control to allow the person fishing a better shot. Was wondering how different it is to row a pontoon in terms of the technical aspects? Still do the same things like back row bow to danger, etc...

Just picked up a toon for lower water conditions and have no idea what to expect when I get in on the water. Looking on advice for boat operation, not pros/cons of one vs. other

Thanks