I usually just leave in similar situations or move... I do say something to let the person know there is plenty of other water and he doesn't need to hover over me like a vulture. I have had it happen on the Little Lehigh where someone will work there way literally directly across the stream from me and start casting to the same fish I am fishing for... I have to shake my head at that. I saw a T-Shirt the other day... I cant remember where but it read "IF YOU CAN READ THIS YOU ARE FISHING TOO CLOSE."
