then why do they refuse your flies if they are not so smart...

Because its fishing? How do you decide which cupcake to eat first?

Ichthyologists don't buy angling literature because they already figured out what fish eat, but a bunch of idiots in plasticized pants will buy a library's worth of material that makes up excuses as to why something with the brain the size of a pea choose real food over a ball of fluff and it must obviously be because the shade of pink was wrong.
