

Subject: : Fly Fishing Locations

Topic: : Segloch Run

Re: Segloch Run

Author: : gfig19

Date: : 2013/4/18 12:22:01

URL:

[quote]

The_Sasquatch wrote:

So many freaking chubs in that stream....at least they don't seem to rise to dries."

Sasquatch,

I've been there the past few Sundays in the late evenings. I've seen so many chubs.... I thought I was in the Lil' Conestoga. Schools of them just swimming around. I walked up through the trail, to the line point before going into private land....I threw in an olive green beaded woolly bugger by the "tree log pool" and chubs kept taking it. I finally caught one rainbow and missed two bigger ones. They were rising just 20yds further and I was able to roll cast it, but the current was a bit strong to keep the fly down long enough. Fun nonetheless, going again and see if I can catch the trout I missed.