

Subject: : Fly Fishing Locations

Topic: : Fishing around Huntingdon, PA

Fishing around Huntingdon, PA

Author: : JuniataKid

Date: : 2013/4/18 14:58:16

URL:

Hey everyone,

I'm new to the Forums, just joined. I attended Juniata College for 4 years, but currently live out of state. I am coming back to Juniata to visit old friends for the first week in May, and would like to fish some of the rivers around the Huntingdon area. I did not begin to fly fish until after college so I am unsure of what there is around the area. Raystown would have some fly fishing, I'm sure, but I don't know where exactly to go on Raystown. I'm looking to fish more for trout. I have also heard that Spruce Creek has some great fishing as well, but is completely private. Any advice you all could give me would be great, any places in particular on Raystown, access to Spruce Creek, other places around Huntingdon. Additionally, if you have any advice on what type of flies to use, or anything else, that would be great. I am open to either nymphing and fishing dry flies, but prefer fishing dries.

Thanks in advance!