

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : Value of C & R

Re: Value of C & R

Author: : Maurice

Date: : 2013/4/20 21:44:52

URL:

Quote:

Gorosaurus wrote:

Those are not the same fish, but they are similarly beautiful catches!

I agree not the same fish... but C&R definitely put the fish back in the dame whereas harvest takes them out.

A trout caught once and harvested has a finite value. While a trout caught and released has value added each time it occurs. Because the investment is realized on the first catch while the additional catches provide the same enjoyment with no investment.

Its a no brainer.

Its safe to say any fish caught and released may be caught again while no fish harvested will ever be.