That fly is fine. Don't clip your hackles, use the right size. It should be a hook size larger than the Gape of the hook.

If yo draw a line from the bottom of your hackle to the tip of the tail it should not touch the bottom of the hook bend. Yours does. Congratulations.

Now drop it on the table from a foot or two and see how it lands. It should land in a three point stance. Tail, and hackle with wings up. Hook not touching.
