Thanks, but it wouldn't even be half as fun without all the mud flinging around these parts. Now you being from Harrisburg and all, no question I would pick one up to nymph those limestoners out there. I have had my best days doing just that on those streams. Heading out again in about a month.

Like you said, just another tool in the arsenal, just it's getting used and more for the reasons above. I used to only nymph fish when I had to, now Tenkara makes Nymphing almost as fun as hitting dry flies.
