I know they didn't come on the scene until Lee Wulff but there is just something wrong about fishing without a vest (or hat). My neck and shoulders do pay the price I admit. If someone would build a lightweight frame that acts like a wearable coat hanger I would buy it. Surely this is not too much to ask.

Well dang, I'm doing this fly fishing stuff all wrong. Havent owned a vest in about 8 years and wear a hat about 10% of the time.

I went from vest to chest pack to chestpack/backpack to fanny pack to fishing shirt/backpack.

With the pockets on my waders and a fishing shirt I can carry fly boxes and tippetts, lunch, extra clothes, extra fly boxes go in the backpack if they are needed.
