the problem with any pack is that you can put it down....

if i'm fishing light i prefer a fishing shirt and kit down the waders front, for a full day nothing beats the vest imho - i have a shakespeare one that converts into a chest 'shorty' for deep wading or warm weather.

loose, it can also go over a ski jacket for those balmy january and february days on wild trout streams.

most seasons it just hangs on the back of the door just waiting for a fly box or two, ready to go.
