

Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : Spring assist locking knife

Spring assist locking knife

Author: : springer1

Date: : 2013/4/24 9:25:25

URL:

I don't carry a firearm here in SEPA even thou I could, but do like a decent knife as I've had "events" with nasty dogs.

Anyways, I found out about this type of knife and replaced the "regular" lock-back I carry.

I keep it in a sheath fastened on my left suspender - it's out and open in 2 seconds; just a press of a forefinger and it swings open with no fumbling around.

I know switchblades are illegal but these are fine; I guess the mechanism design makes them different and OK legally.

Just though I'd pass it on.