Dear dryflyklesse,

My apologies, what I meant to say is it's great to see someone having such great success on the S. Branch Codorus.

I have fished there several times in the past few years and my success was not so great as yours. I do find it to be a nice small stream in its middle to upper reaches with a mix of bass, redeyes, sunnies and small wild trout here and there.

You see, I am a grouchy bastard and my fishbone is connected to my alcohol bone. My alcohol bone (ankle) is connected to a bracelet, which is connected to the courthouse. So I cannot fish for a while and I am having resentments that someone is out one of my local fishing waters having more fun than I can imagine fishing and stuff.

So it's not you it's me, so we all agree, catch one. Two....three.

Uppa Murphy style,

Jake
