The other thing that works well is a smoothie blender. I didn't have a coffee grinder and I started using an old bullet smoothie blender and I think it works pretty much the same.

Last night I cut up a rabbit mask with some old flash material I hadn't been using and made a pretty cool blend. I'm still learning to experiment with different materials but I love the unlimited possibilities!

My friends dad hunts small game and has more pelts than he knows what to do with so if you have a friend that does so, it's a great way to get the most out of it. Also, look through your fly tying materials. I found bunches of colored craft fur that I hadn't used in years... blend that in with some natural and some flash and you have some great options!
