I fondly remember those days he's in right now. At the vise for so long your back got stiff, staying up past midnight trying to get something right on that fly. When I first started tying if you came to the door you were fair game to look at my ties. 😊 Enjoy your time at this great hobby that's so intertwined with another great hobby. Don't forget to save some of your early ties, years from now you'll be glad you did.
