phiendWMD, welcome aboard and co-sign what Volkesnurse said.

There are decent amt and now that it is warming up, maybe we can put a WW date down to fish some of the locals. It has been discussed yet never happens. That said; many on this board get together w/in an hr drive in many directions and you can always tag along if interested. You'll learn and have a good day with some great guys. Read some of the threads and PM some guys you think are in ur area (I'm near Newtown/Holland).

Just don't take my advise on the H20 ... I've been doing this thing for a year and still hang in the beginner forum.
