
Subject: : Warm Water & Salt Water Fly-Fishing

Topic: : Those Danged Snakeheads

Those Danged Snakeheads

Author: : JVenezia

Date: : 2013/4/27 13:02:41

URL:

Anyone interested in Md. fishing for the horrible beasts?

There is a annual tourney held at Smallwood State Park. The fishing is overnight and open to standard tackle, approved live baits and artificial, Bowfishing and yes I am going to say it FLY FISHING...!!!! Standard practice or Spey fishing....

I had a few guys we were going to put a boat team together with But, the Captain "boat owner" slotted in a family vacation in that time boat is going with them... Oi...!!!

So wondering if any fellows from the forums might be interested especially someone with a boat able to fish shallows and navigate backwater and areas of the Potomac...

I actually have two businesses that are willing to throw some sponsor money to cover gas, entry fee's and what not maybe I can hook a couple more. And will print up a few shirts for the team.... Team can be as large as the boat safely allows with gear, people and containers for the dead bodies.....

Top Prize Money Is $$$$1000.00

Anyone interested???

Oh also at the event their are sponsors from a local brewery, food and the likes...

Either message me or post here....

Attach file:

 arapaima-fly-fishing1b.jpg (116.27 KB)

