For those of you who know me, you might be able to appreciate this. I have been bugged and bugged and bugged for a while that I need a job. I kept saying "no no no" for a while but it looks like I've waited it out long enough. I am now working at the WhiteWater Flies Fly Shop. You guys are probably familiar with the online webstore, but Greg Becker just opened up a shop in Lafayette NJ (I think its something like 222 Rt. 15N). I'm super excited because not only do I finally have a job but it's related to what I love. I'll probably end up doing some tying classes and demo's. I will be there pretty much every Saturday from now on, and will be there more often when summer rolls around. So if any of you are ever in the area stop in and say hey! ...other than that I just wanted to share the exciting news.
