

Subject: : Fly Tying

Topic: : Mixing dubbing?

Re: Mixing dubbing?

Author: : Rolf

Date: : 2013/4/28 18:34:27

URL:

Charlie Craven has a neat trick to blend dubbing in a ziplock bag with a can of compressed air. Just put the mix in the bag, poke some pin holes in the sides, and seal the zip over the straw that attaches to the can. A few blasts of air violently spins the fur around and it works as well as a grinder.

I've tried this with Hares Ear and it works really well. It's worth giving it a try.