chances are I know exactly where your talking. I have fished pretty much every section from the gate down and a little bit from the gate up. I can be on stony in about 3 minutes and I never fish it. It seems to be only good after they stock. Above the dam at the inn gets pretty good hatch. Other than that I really dont like stony at all. Most fish dont seem to holdover very well either. But now that the limestone well is up on rausch it has gotten a lot better.
