Has anyone had experience with Redington waders? I'm thinking about the Palix River waders. I like that they have long sizes since I'm 6'4". They seem like a good middle of the road wader for $150. My other option I'm leaning toward is the LL Bean Flyweight II for $80. I bought a pair for my wife and they seem like a good quality for the price. I'm on the fence whether I want to go "entry level" or a step up. I fish almost once a week for a few hours.
