I pretty much use Afish's formula. Except on the small side, I almost never go below 6x. Even when using size 24's and 26's, I just add length to the 6x, or go to softer materials, before resorting to 7x.

Streamers (sometimes) - 2x

Streamers (sometimes), and sizes 8-10 - 3x

Sizes 10-14 - 4x

Sizes 14-18 - 5x

Sizes 18-26 - 6x

Sizes 28+ - I've never used!

Notice a little overlap there, there is some choice remaining in the tweener sizes, which is a variable to consider in addition to water conditions, "persnickityness" of the fish, tippet material and length, leader construction, etc.
