I was detained for about an hour in VA back in the 80's or 90's until it was proved that I did not need to change my CA tags on my car while serving in the military.

From this point I believe there are 3 choices:

Pay the fine and forget about it

Fight it in Court

Stay out of PA and hope it don't catch up to you in the future.

The first route is the easiest/cheapest and best route to take.
