

Subject: : Hatch and Entomology Forum

Topic: : Stonefly Nymphs

Re: Stonefly Nymphs

Author: : phillyfly

Date: : 2013/4/30 12:52:49

URL:

The top one screams golden stone with the mottling apparent in the body and I agree with pcray that the others are some other sort of golden stone due to the sheer size. It also looks like you got yourself a march brown nymph at the bottom there with the three tails. Im still pretty green to identifying the nymphs so I could be wrong. Im sad to say I havent turned over many rocks at the Po but these are exciting discoveries. Nice work