Yes they were all fairly large stoneflies. They are in a petri dish, so I do not know if that helps you with size.

I collected these and a whole lot of other aquatic macro-invertebrates for my teaching science class. Teacher found everything I collected to be really great. However, in a class of 7 and 6 of them being girls, they were not to enthused. I only took the photo's of the stone's because I really enjoy observing them.
