

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : Fryin' up wild browns

Re: Fryin' up wild browns

Author: : bstone97

Date: : 2013/5/1 9:54:28

URL:

My thinking is this when it comes to both fishing and hunting.....if you plan on eating what you harvest then there isnt an issue. I don't like that taste of trout, therefore I practice C&R when I fish by myself but if I'm fishing with a buddy and I know that they will eat the fish I will keep enough to make a meal, which is usually only one or two nice size fish.

I often wondered why they stock Lyman Lake with rainbows when the headwaters are a Wild Brook Trout Enhancement area. I'm headed up that way on May 8-11, cant wait to get in God's country.