

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : Fryin' up wild browns

Re: Fryin' up wild browns

Author: : wsender

Date: : 2013/5/1 10:02:09

URL:

Quote:

foxfire wrote:

I think it makes sense and should be done, though personally I couldn't harvest a wild or native fish. I know, I'm a hypocrite.

But only wild fish from my backyard. Right?

I'm guessing most people who have similar reservations have zero problems buying wild fish from the store, often from fisheries that are in far, far worse shape. But people can't fly feesh for cod, and cod isn't in your local stream, so #censor#'em, right?!

I think native/wild fish are more resilient then most people give them credit for. IMO, if a stream is in such rough shape that fish shouldn't be harvested from it, it should just be closed from fishing.