In my opinion if the state is suggesting a harvest then I wouldnt. I feel the state should mandate a harvest if they are fully committed to managing the habitat in a particular manner. For example, the manadatory killing of lake trout within the Yellowstone eco system.

It is interesting though because even in Yellowstone you are allowed to kill rainbow trout on Slough Creek but you are not required to do so. Im not educated enough to know why its not mandatory as a threat to cutthroats similar to your scenario above, but if it is then why would you not get them out before it pushes the natives out like in Yellowstone Lake? Its curious to me....
