

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : Fryin' up wild browns

Re: Fryin' up wild browns

Author: : troutbert

Date: : 2013/5/1 17:51:17

URL:

Quote:

The_Sasquatch wrote:

We just got pcrayed! OT pcrayed!

Back on topic, if BT have existed in NCPA since the early 20th century (which I'm not arguing), then I wonder by what measure the state used to designate Lyman and Kettle a "WBTE" stream.

Some of the streams chosen for WBTE regs are all brookie streams, and some are streams that have a lot of brookies, but also some browns.

I think it was reasonable to try some examples of both, to see what happens on both.

Whether Lyman Run was a particularly good choice, I'm not sure. The stream was already under special regs before the WBTE regs.