Meh. Anderson craps all over Winston all the time. I'm amazed Winston has not kicked him curbside. A few points of interest. First, Anderson uses the Winston B3sx for 100 foot+ casting contests. Second, look at the butts of those rods in the review. Note one of them is heavily worn and all the others are brand new. Could it be that the b3x is someones go to 5wt? Third, he poops all over Winstons supply chain because they are selling so many Passports that he cant keep them in stock. Last, any chance that $1400 Tom Morgan (former owner of Winston) threw a little sweeter since it had been custom built, including Andersons name emblazened on it?
