Allen, I feel your pain my friend. This is way too addicting of a sport, I must confess. I own a st croix 15' 10/11wt avid, and pretty much the only reason I bought it other than wanting to play around with a classic spey style line, is that it was on clearance from st croix for $120. Now I still have yet to line it with a proper classic spey line, but I did pick up a used skagit head for $20 shipped and put that on my reel for my other double hand rod. So really I only have maybe $160 into that set up... yeah the bargains are hard to turn down. Especially now I am watching a line on ebay that is listed poorly, if I get it with one bid, $12 shipped for a $80 cortland spey line... 😊
