This is not Cooks Ck, but I do not know which stream it really is. Given the geology, there are strong limitations as to where this could be in the portion of SE pa described. Therefore, by process of elimination, I am taking a guess that it might be Ridge Valley Ck. Admittedly, something does not look quite right to me in the photo for it to be Ridge Valley, but then again I have seen very little of that stream. Perhaps someone here is more familiar with Ridge Valley than I am and could tell me whether my guess is the least bit feasible.
