

Subject: : Fly Fishing Locations

Topic: : Little Schuylkill

Re: Little Schuylkill

Author: : Mike

Date: : 2013/5/3 4:18:33

URL:

Could not say, but you will also find that the 1.1 mile Port Clinton stretch is well stocked. I have been told of a reasonably good sulphur hatch that has occurred there during past Mays. It is fairly big water for SE pa and looks very attractive as a fishery (habitat), although it is certainly less pristine looking than the dh stretch.