Well thanks John. 🙄 And here I was ready to make an informative post about our discussion.

It was really nice to meet you and I liked the way you expressed some of your thoughts versus some of your dilemas. Left me feeling like "one of us" was in your position. I used to talk to Austin a bit and never got that feeling. Not bad really, just not near as good.

By the way, I loved that one report you made about when the hatcheries were still closing..."I cant just go borrow money from China"... 😊
