Cast and blast, I was thinking of the same in the Gorge. When I run out of water down there, I fill in the river, lol.....fine thus far.

The one uncertainty I have about taking a shotgun onto the Gorge trail is that on the map the no hunting zones are impossible to see because the trail gets so thin in places. I am guessing that you can walk with a gun right down that trail, unless you can't due to some exemption. If you heard a gobbler on that bike path, it is one hell of a rock climb up onto the plateaus.
