The kicker was my son had a hockey tryout at noon, so went to that only to see that it was my son and a goalie. Great turnout. They had the two of them skate and hang around for the peewee tryout so they could work with them. Turns out they asked both boys to be on the team if they want which is an 02 birth year team, they are both 03 birth years. Not sure if he'll do it but it will be his decision.

Lets hear other dumb moves of the day from everyone else.
