

Subject: : Warm Water & Salt Water Fly-Fishing

Topic: : Lunch Break

Re: Lunch Break

Author: : streamerguy

Date: : 2013/5/4 20:37:52

URL:

Nice! A couple days ago I went out specifically targeting crappie, but got skunked. Then the next day I went targeting something else and couldn't keep the crappie from attacking my flies! They were small though, so they didn't end up becoming sandwiches.

I guess the spawn is happening or getting close to happening as the fish(3rd and 4th pic mainly) are darkening up already. Some of the ones I caught the other day were dark too.

btw, those are all black crappie imo. White crappie tend to have more vertical bars instead of spots/blotches scattered throughout.