Sweet!!! I remember my first ever steelhead like it was yesterday, probably one of my most memorable fish. Congrats on the first of hopefully many.

I fished for steelhead the past 2 weekends and caught mainly older(as in been in the river a while) fish. Did get one nice fresh one, lost another that looked and fought like it was very fresh, and heard of a few others being caught. Definitely winding down though. On the bright side, the lake run bass are in!! Hope to make a trip real soon to chase those monster smallies.
