I'm a longtime FF duffer who bought a place in upper Susquehanna county several years ago as a getaway and have started to explore some waters in the poconos, on the way up there, that I've never fished. 2 weeks ago I stopped to fish the Lehigh river in SGL 127 in Monroe county. I fished it for about 4 hours and saw no trout, got no hits on nymphs, saw no rises, and very little insect activity. It seems to be a nice stream asthetically and I'd like to hear how it fishes from anyone in the know. Thanks!
