Last summer when I was chasing SMB I used mostly poppers with limited success. Will SMB chase the same flies FI listed in post #2?

Poppers can be very effective and a ton of fun for SMBs.

For some odd reason, smallies have not been "on" poppers very often last season and the season before. Many FFers have reported the same thing.

Keep trying, though. The surface bite is more likely to happen when the water warms a bit. Lotts fun...my favorite way to fish smallies and largies for that matter.
