I use a little DEET on my hat, neck, and arms, if exposed. I try not to get it on my face or hands, and I wash my hands after application (even if just in stream).

I also wear waders. And often spray a little Deet around my chest area (top of waders, before putting waders on). Reasoning for that is ticks. If they crawl up my waders, I want the wiff of DEET present as they approach a spot they can get on me. Gnats are annoying, skeeters a pain in the rear. But ticks are what scare me.

Cigars work, till you finish it, and then it's like it's an attractant!
