No FF only section on Penns.

Yet, I see 80% fly anglers when I fish it.

I have honestly known cases where people admitted they felt too guilty about spin fishing any longer. First, they give up the bait, then they use spinners.....then a trout gets hooked in the gills- they crimp the barbs..... they use single-barbless hooks.... they get a deep hook..and then it is all flies. The guilt is too much, lol. Penns is nice, people want to conserve it once they realize catch, release and re-catch is real.

The six barbed- hook, count down rapala guys never feel the shame, haha.
