I'm in the middle zone, I had 2 very good mentors and they taught me plenty, through their training and advice I managed to catch many trout, a lot on flies they tied.

Now I feel the urge to bring someone new into the fly fishing world. I have a couple of good friends that only spin fish. I'd like to try to get them into fly fishing.

Isn't it funny how that has a way of working it's way out.
