

---

Subject: : Fly Fishing Events and Meet-ups

Topic: : Harman's North Fork Invitational

Re: Harman's North Fork Invitational

Author: : geebee

Date: : 2013/5/8 14:20:18

URL:

Quote:

SBecker wrote:

My question is this.....If it is not your cup of tea, it is not your cup of tea. But why come on here and bash a sponsor of the site? Especially a sponsor that has been very generous with our members. And now because of that sponsorship, PA Fly Fish is going to be recognized all over the country and get some real good publicity. I just find that in bad taste.

+1.

I prefer to fish for wild trout, but a place where Mrs GB can chill while I fish, yeah i'm down with that.

My wife's folks are in VA, so Harman's is definitely on my bucket list - as is a day trip to Seneca Creek which they mention on their website along with other wild c&r fisheries, which they didn't have to do and many spots wouldn't.

they seem like a good outfit to me, so they'll see my hard earned at some stage.

GB