Squatch.....I thought that was a pretty cool video. I lived in Elizabethtown for awhile when i first moved down east to work. Would have been late 1979. I won't burn ya on the spot but i have to tell this story. I used to fish a spot on that stream , i'm not sure if it's above or below where your video is but mine was on a dairy farm that had "Fishing Permitted" signs and parking and well worn paths up through the pasture. Every time i'd go there to fish about a half hour into the day and about the time i was out of sight of the farm , here would come this herd of cows up the path , le3ad by the biggest , meanest ass BULL you ever saw. Thank God there is a fence right there and i was paying attention and they were on the other side of the stream but he would always leave the cows there and come and "visit" me at the fence , he would walk right up and get in my face and tear up clods of dirt pawing and the f er would growl like a bear at me , never failed. Great crowd control.
