Bulls, mean arse rams, farm dogs, these are the hazards of being a Lancaster Co. fly fisherman!

I didn't see a stretch that goes through a dairy farm, so you may have been way above us (though it would be in Lebanon Co. then), or below us, which is all put-and-take now-exceptional small mouth fisher down there, though.

I ain't too worried about "burning it" as it gets POUNDED during the first several weeks of trout season, except we were on private land (with permission) for about 80% of this footage, which is why I didn't mention the stream name in the video.
