In my bait fishing for trout days, I used a sling or 'satchel' to hold my jar of live minnows and all my stuff.

This in mind, I tried a sling pack by either william Joseph or who ever. I just couldn't make it jibe with my style. I am, however, thinking the patagonia Atom Sling may be the best alternative to a vest that isn't a 2-sided, non chest pack.

Sylv,

Check out the link I posted above. Vedavoo is an awesome company. Everything is really well thought out and made in the USA. Scott is great to work with and will customize a pack with anything you want and any color combination.
