The wifey wants to head to the shore house for Mother's day weekend. She's on her way down now with the kids and I'm working a half day and leaving around 12:30 to make the trek to Sea Isle City.

Anyone been hitting the surf or back bays? I've heard the stripers, blues, and weakies have been good in the back bays but just wondering if anyone else had luck. Looking for patterns, water depth, time of day/tide info etc.

Brought an 8 weight, some heavy leader, A few sink tips, clousers, deceivers, surf candy, gurglers, and some generic Puglisi fiber baitfish patterns. Hoping to find some scales :)

Dub,

Fredrick is making a foray to IBSP today (I believe). Maybe he'll post a report.
