I suck at spinning deer hair. But I've never been a fan of foam. I saw "Frequent Tyers" link to the Cicada-13 and gave it a shot. Hook size 6 and 8 3x

I didn't have the right wing material and used Neer hair as a sub. I've been permanent marking synthetic material lately and find that it washes off. I think the wings could be darker.

Every time I look at a Cicada I see a blunt head, so I've been hesitant to trim the heads. As I tied I kept making the wings longer.

Any thoughts would be helpful.
